

O'Connor's Battle Of Chief Interest To White House

Chairman of Rules Committee, Marked for Purge by Chief Executive, Gives National Aspect to Primary

Final Attempt

Roosevelt's Final Bid to Defeat So-Called 'Conservative' Lawmakers

(By The Associated Press)
The success or failure of presidential efforts to defeat Chairman J. O'Connor of the House rules committee was being determined today by voters of New York city's east side tenements and penthouses.

O'Connor, whom Mr. Roosevelt recently termed "one of the most effective obstructionists" in the House, sought both Democratic and Republican nomination for a fourth term.

The double contest was about the only one giving national aspect to today's primaries in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Wisconsin. It was the President's fourth—and final—attempts in this year's primaries to unseat lawmakers whom he called conservatives. He lost Democratic senatorial battles in South Carolina, Georgia and Maryland.

James H. Fay, supported by Mr. Roosevelt, was O'Connor's Democratic opponent. No matter who wins that nomination, Fay's name will be on the November ballot as candidate of the American labor party, running against O'Connor on the Republican ticket as Allan Dulles, former state department aide.

O'Connor has been one of the key men of the House because the rules committee decides whether to give major legislation the right-of-way to the floor.

New York will not select senatorial candidates until party conventions next week. Both the state's senatorial seats are at stake; the term of Senator Wagner expires and the death of Senator Copeland created a vacancy.

Wisconsin and New Jersey voters, however, were choosing senatorial nominees today. Senator R. Ryan Duffy was unopposed for Democratic renomination in the former state, but there were contests on the Republican and Progressive tickets.

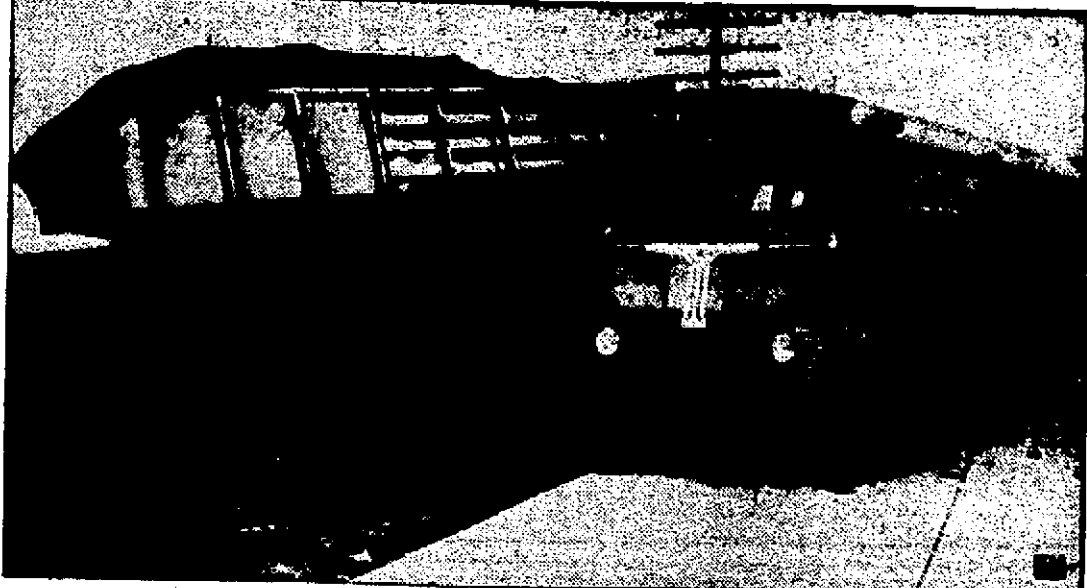

In New Jersey, William H. Ely was the only Democratic candidate for the seat of Senator John Milner, who decided not to run again. Former Senator W. Warren Barbour had two opponents on the Republican ballot.

Two governors—Phillip LaFollette (Prog.-Wis.) and Charles F. Murphy (D.-Mass.)—had primary elections.

Voters in the four states were choosing nominees for 82 House seats in the last primaries of the season. Nominations for 11 House seats are yet to be made in various state conventions.

Up to this week, 299 House members and 25 senators have been defeated, and some members in both chambers did not seek another term. Only 35 senators are to be elected this year, but the entire House membership of 435 must be filled.

Pauline Frederick Dies of Asthma

PAULINE FREDERICK

Beverly Hills, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP)—Pauline Frederick, 53, who defied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Libbey, to enter the theatre and rose to recognition as America's premier dramatic actress, is dead.

Physicians said a heart attack apparently contributed to the sudden death yesterday of the once great star of stage and screen. She had been ill of asthma since Friday.

Stately and dark-haired, although she was graying in recent years the "Girl with the Tanned Eyes" never found domestic life the happiness she achieved on the stage.

She was married five times. Three marriages ended in divorce, one in annulment.

Her fifth husband, with whom she said she found her "only real happiness" died in 1935, just 11 months after their marriage.

Two Trainers Killed
East Deerfield, Mass., Sept. 20 (AP)—Two members of the train crew were killed and two others injured early today when the engine and four cars of a 76-car (Boston and Maine) freight train were derailed. Road officials said a cloudburst washed sand and gravel onto the track. The train, headed for New York, was moving at about 20 miles an hour. Fatally injured were Fireman C. G. Bixby and brakeman C. E. Whitehead, both of Springfield.

McDowell Retorts Report Not True Regarding Trucks

Wawarsing Supervisor and Sergeant Hopkins Out- standing Figures in Mat- ter About Auto Plates

A considerable controversy appears to be raging in the town of Wawarsing, with Supervisor T. Hill McDowell and Sergeant John A. Hopkins, of the state police, the outstanding figures in the affair.

Published correspondence in the matter indicates that some person or persons had made complaints that trucks and truck-trucks used on the New York city water works project at Lackawack, on which B. Perini & Sons have a contract at the present time for coffer dam and diversion tunnel work, had been used on public roads without proper licenses.

It appears that an investigation had been made and a report sent to Commissioner Harnett of the Motor Vehicle Bureau to the effect that the trucks were not running on the roads except for a short distance.

The next step it seems was a telegram from Supervisor McDowell to Commissioner Harnett in which the commissioner was asked to send a representative to investigate. It was claimed that "your report received from the state constabulary located in this section is far from true" and that these vehicles were being operated on five different public roads between the town and also on Route 55, a state highway.

Following the sending of the telegram a special meeting of the town board of the town of Wawarsing was called and it is stated that the board went on record as endorsing the telegram which had been sent to Commissioner Harnett.

Later, on September 8, Supervisor McDowell sent to the commissioner a lengthy letter which went into the situation in detail. The letter stated that since the sending of the telegram and in an effort to "cover up" the company "has since constructed a road parallel to Route 55 and are at the present time just crossing Route 55 at one place with truck-tracks and trucks."

The letter continues with a statement that "trucks and truck-tracks are still being operated on town roads without proper license plates" and that "the report of August 18, 1938, by John A. Hopkins is not a true report. He has at no time consulted with the town board in regard to any part of this affair. He is absolutely wrong when he says only two town highways are being used. He is absolutely wrong when he says only one farmer by the name of Kaplan lives on one of these roads."

Soviet Reported Ready to Aid Czechs, Prague Silent; France Gives Warning in Face of Strife

Bonnet Said to Have Made Point Clear Great Britain Would Not Fight for Czechs Under Any Circumstances

Strike Spreads

Growing Strike Movement in France Linked to Defense of Czechoslovakia

Paris, Sept. 20 (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today that France made clear to Czechoslovakia she would have to fight alone if she refused to accept the Franco-British proposal for giving to Germany the Sudeten German areas of Czechoslovakia.

Sources which kept closely informed of developments in the crisis said they learned that Foreign Minister Bonnet left no doubt yesterday in the minds of the Czechoslovak minister, so Paris, Stephan Ousky, that Britain would not fight for Czechoslovakia under any circumstances.

France could not fight without British support.

Division of the country into two bitterly opposed groups became more acute as France waited tensely for the Czechoslovak answer to the Franco-British proposal for peace.

The Prague reply was expected this afternoon.

Despite Bonnet's warning to Ousky, the nature of the reply became more important as opposition became increasingly apparent to the plan which many called the "shame of France."

Many observers said that if the Czechs decided to fight, the pressure of public opinion might force France to go to her aid.

Sources close to the government indicated that a "unanimous decision" of the cabinet on the plan yesterday was far from pleasant to many ministers.

Such cabinet members as Georges Mandel, colonel; Paul Reynaud, justice; Cesar Campinchi, navy; Henri Queuille, agriculture, were named as having agreed either that Czechoslovakia would not accept the plan or that Chancellor Hitler would be emboldened to ask for more.

A growing strike movement in France, which already involved an estimated 175,000 workers, was linked to the "defense of Czechoslovakia" by the powerful central executive committee of Paris unions.

The Communist party in a formal manifesto declared that Premier Daladier brought about the "ruin and humiliation of our country."

The Socialist party called a meeting of its senators and deputies for tomorrow, under the presidency of former Premier Leon Blum, who described the peace plan as a surrender to an ultimatum from Hitler.

Poisoning Cases Spread

Chicago, Sept. 20 (AP)—The reporting of 35 new cases of a mysterious poisoning spurred health department chemists and bacteriologists today in their search for the origin of the malady that has caused death and illness to 103 persons. Virtually all the victims lived in Elmwood Park, a west side suburb, and adjacent areas. Many reported they were seized with the illness after eating a pastry purchased in the neighborhood.

Gang Is Held

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—Police arrested a gang of five men today in the theft August 29 of a truckload of suits valued at $47,780. Three of the men—Michael Marino, 38, Tony Baresi, 25, and Anthony Garraci, 32—were held on charges of assault and robbery. The others, Adolf Verva, 30, and Samuel Piazza, 24, were charged with receiving stolen goods. The men, surprised in a Brooklyn loft, surrendered after detectives fired two shots.

'New Border' For the Czechs

Dotted line in this map shows approximately the border between Germany and Czechoslovakia if the plan supposedly approved by French and British statesmen in their London conference is approved. Predominantly German (Sudeten) areas of western Czechoslovakia would be annexed outright by Germany.

Property Prices Force Delay in Widening Milton 2-Strip Road

Board of Supervisors' Group, Owners Unable to Reach Agreement, Is Report; County Might Act

Although the state highway department has allocated the funds for the construction of a 4-strip concrete highway to replace the present narrow 2-strip road between Milton and Marlborough, the road will not be constructed before next year.

It is understood that the principal reason for the delay is the price asked by property owners for the necessary rights of way needed to construct the wider highway.

The rights of way committee of the Board of Supervisors during the past summer have been negotiating with property owners and it is understood that the property owners have been asking from $150,000 to $200,000 for needed rights of way. This amount the rights of way committee consider excessive.

If property owners and the committee cannot come together on prices the next step that the county will take is condemnation proceedings to acquire the rights of way needed.

It is said that the rights of way committee, although this could not be verified, believe that the property that would have to be taken to widen the road was not worth over $50,000, and that $30,000 would be more nearly a correct figure.

During the past year the county has spent considerable money for rights of way needed for road construction. The building of the new 4-strip road at Highland and the viaduct through the village of Highland cost the county considerable in acquiring necessary rights of way. The county also ac-

Prague Stalls for Time

Czechoslovakia, pressed by Great Britain and France to surrender her Sudeten German areas to Adolf Hitler, stalled for time today while reports from Geneva said Soviet Russia had promised support if she would resist efforts to take the areas by force.

Neither Russian nor Czechoslovak sources would confirm the Geneva reports officially, but Czechoslovak sources said they were "not improbable."

The Czechoslovak cabinet was said to have found "unacceptable" the British-French plan to cede Sudetenland to Germany, but was ready to use provisions of the plan as a basis for further negotiations.

The need for quick action was emphasized by a series of clashes on the German-Czechoslovak frontier.

Three Frontier Attacks

The Czechoslovak government said three attacks on frontier customs houses had been made by bands of men who crossed the boundary from Germany armed with machine-guns, hand grenades and pistols. Two Czechoslovak officers were reported wounded.

German reports, on the other hand, charged that Czechoslovakia had been the aggressors in several border clashes. The official German News Agency, DNB, said 17 German frontier guards were wounded in one of the clashes and reported there was another engagement between Czechoslovak frontier detachments and deserting Sudeten Germans.

Official circles in Berlin declared that if the Czechoslovak government could not control its border forces Germany might regard the incidents as "of the same nature as a cause for war." They said "the most severe representations" would be made to Prague if details of the reports proved to be true.

Great Britain was said to have decided she would not fight under any circumstances and France asserted she would not fight without Britain's support.

The British prime minister, Neville Chamberlain, was expected to take his "expedient surrender" back to Hitler tomorrow, but there were indications he would do so without the full support of his people. Opposition arguments were that he was surrendering another country's territory for a temporary peace.

There was a possibility his trip to Germany might be delayed, for he was said to be waiting for Czechoslovakia to answer the proposals and the Prague government was seeking additional time.

In Paris division of opinion became more acute. Many observers said that if Czechoslovakia decided to fight the pressure of public opinion might force France to go to her aid despite the government's declaration that no military aid would be given.

Further complications were injected into the situation by publication of a communique in Warsaw saying that Polish ambassadors had been instructed to present the Polish attitude on the Czechoslovak problem to the governments in Rome, Paris, London and Berlin. Informal circles understood Poland would insist upon return to Poland of Czechoslovak territory with a predominant Polish population.

Work Started in 1923; Will Not Be Completed Until 1940.

WELLESLEY, MASS. — A huge curvature relief model of the United States, largest of its kind in the world, is being built at Babson Institute by a corps of geographical experts.

Work on the model began in 1923, but various obstacles delayed work during the depression. On January 1 of this year, Dr. Wallace W. Atwood Jr., Clark university geographer, was placed in charge of the project. Since then the rate of construction has increased about 15-fold.

Under the present program, completion is scheduled for January, 1940.

The model is in the Coleman Map building, erected specially for the model on the Babson campus. There a giant, dome-shaped, steel framework—63 by 45 feet—has been constructed by Bethlehem Steel corporation. It reproduces in exact proportion the earth's curvature.

Built in Sections. On this framework is placed a plaster base map on which is painted the outline of the United States.

Because of the size of the model, it is being constructed in small sections, to be placed in their proper position on the curved framework.

Each section is one degree of latitude long and one degree of longitude wide. The finished model will contain 1,216 such sections, of which more than 400 now are completed.

Systematic mapping of the United States did not begin until 1883, when certain sections of New England were surveyed. These first efforts were unsatisfactory, and a new start was made. Until now, only about 56 per cent of the country has been covered by the official topographical survey maps of the federal government.

In areas having no topographical survey, stream maps must be used. These are combined with airplane photos and supplemented by all obtainable spot-elevation figures.

Many Sources Used. From this is created a topographical map that serves as a guide in construction of the model. Sources being used by Dr. Atwood and his staff include the regular United States Geological Survey charts, coast and geodetic survey charts, geological survey bench marks, state geodetic surveys done by the WPA, maps by chief engineers of railroads, by war department, county and state highway engineers.

Among the most important sources of information are the sectional aeronautical charts of the bureau of air commerce, designed primarily to show airline pilots the location of radio beams and beacons.

Besides extensive areas in the West and South unmapped except for air charts and scattered elevation figures, are the Mount Washington section of Vermont and the northern section of Maine. North-central Pennsylvania and the Carolinas also have similar areas.

The Father of Umbrellas For Men Is Remembered

LONDON.—The recent sale of Jonas Hanway's umbrellas at an auction room has recalled Hanway's fame as the philanthropist who introduced umbrellas into the rainy streets of London about 1750 and so saved thousands of Londoners from pneumonia and rheumatism.

Drayton, Swift and Gay all had written of umbrellas in London long before Hanway's time, but umbrellas to them were a women's fashion. Hanway's achievement, after he returned from Persia with his umbrella, seems to have been the conversion of the male population, and so well did he succeed that not long after his death in 1786 even army officers carried umbrellas in London.

Need of Religion Seen by Speaker

Nearly 350 people from a dozen Sunday Schools in the Town of Saugerties Sunday School Association listened intently to Dr. Wilbur T. Clemens, General Secretary of the New York State Council of Churches, as he emphasized the need of, and showed the way to, secure, better Sunday Schools.

The fall rally of the association was held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp, Friday evening.

Dr. Clemens gave some statistics to show the prevalence of crime, and the need of more religious education for our youth. Investigations show, he said, that 42,000,000 of our population under 25 years of age, and some 15,000,000 under 15 years of age are without religious training.

In addition to urging better teacher training, he advised the Association to make a religious survey of the township, and set up week-day schools of religious education at convenient places, since under the laws of this state pupils will be released from school for an hour's religious instruction each week on the written request of their parents.

Cooperation is often the way to better Sunday Schools, he said. In the Van Hornesville area of about 175 square miles, there were seven church buildings without a single resident pastor, but after following a plan of co-operation worked out by the State Council of Churches, there are now two full-time well-educated pastors, with over 300 children getting religious instruction each week.

According to Dr. Clemens, adults should realize the importance of religious training, for adults as well as for the young people, and be willing to give more time and money to finance the work on a vastly increased scale to save our country from collapse.

To illustrate the need of greater earnestness and enthusiasm in Christian work Dr. Clemens told of a young communist in Brooklyn, met by Margaret Slattery. He was cheerful and happy wearing shoes through which bare feet could be seen, in his sacrifice to contribute his utmost for the circulation of communist literature.

According to Dr. Clemens, better trained teachers, more visiting of the pupils by the teachers, more appreciation of the value of Christian education by all adults, and more co-operative work carefully planned, with surveys to learn conditions, provide ways to secure better Sunday Schools, and do more effective Christian work for the community.

At the business session of the convention it was voted to observe Religious Education Week, September 25 to October 2, inclusive; details were left in the hands of a committee.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President—Gladding R. Sutton. Vice President—Leonard Van Gaasbeek.

Superintendent—The Rev. Stephen Willis Ryder. Associate Superintendent—Floyd B. Garrison.

Secretary-Treasurer—Miss Maye Osterhout. Honorary Superintendent—Edwin P. Cole.

Departmental Superintendents: Home Department—Mrs. Nellie Brown; Young People's Work—Alfred M. Fingert; Teachers' Training—The Rev. Lester L. Haws.

The place of the winter convention Friday, January 20, 1939, was left to be arranged by the officers of the Association.

Sunday, September 25, has been chosen as the date for the annual pilgrimage of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church to Aurioville, N. Y. Each year this society sponsors such a trip and several bus loads of men join in the religious pilgrimage. This year besides the local Holy Name men there will be a large delegation from New York city present on the occasion. A most unusual program has been arranged in celebration of the feast of the North American martyrs, in whose honor the shrine has been erected. The exercises will consist of Mass at noon at which the Most Rev. Edward F. Gibbons, Bishop of Albany, will preside.

In the early afternoon there will be the public Vespers of the Cross. Following this Bishop Gibbons will lay the cornerstone of the new shrine house. The service will close with Benediction of the blessed Sacrament by Bishop Gibbons. There will also be the customary procession to the Shrine, where the remains of the first American saint.

Baptist Session
Held at Shokan

Shokan, Sept. 19.—Old School Baptists on Friday brought to a conclusion one of the most successful association or three-days meetings that have been held in the Olive and Hurley meeting house for many years. The services brought to Shokan leading workers of the church from numerous churches and several states. Thursday the crowd was so large that one of the ministers preached within the meeting house while another elder held forth to the overflow on the lawn.

The association of 1938 was called to order Wednesday, September 14, by Elder Arnold H. Bellows of West Hurley, who was chosen moderator. Orville Winchell, a Kingston communicant of the local church and a grandson of one of its early pastors, was made clerk of the meeting. Elder D. L. Topping of Linthicum Heights, Md., preached the introductory sermon from the first four verses of the 61st chapter of Isaiah. Followed letters from each of the churches of the Lexington-Roxbury Association—Lexington, Olive and Hurley, Vega, Roxbury, Middletown, Clowesville and Middleburg—as written by the several clerks in statement of the condition of each unit.

The meeting next received messengers from all the visiting associations, including Baltimore, Covenant Baptist Church of Canada, Delaware, Delaware River, Maine Association, Warwick, Virginia Corresponding Meeting, and Salisbury. The meeting was then adjourned for lunch, served free on the grounds by ladies of the church while further business was adjourned until Friday's session.

Following the noon intermission, Elder George Ruston of Dutton, Canada, who for 12 years served as pastor of the local church, preached from Isaiah 50: 4, after which a circular letter, written by Mrs. Luella Stevens and stating the doctrine of the association, was read and later adopted.

On Thursday, Elder Leston Dodson preached from Isaiah 43: 1-7. In the afternoon, Elder Topping of Maryland delivered a discourse from the 23rd Psalm, followed by Elder Ruston, preaching from Romans 8:33. Friday morning the association concluded its business, and all present listened to a sermon by Elder Ruston whose text was taken from 7 Thessalonians, 5:19-21. Hewitt Osborn of Athens was elected as trustee to the Primitive Baptist Home, and Roxbury was selected as the place for the next session.

The local Baptist society dates back to September 2, 1799, the founders being such early residents of Olive and Marlborough as the following: Matthias Montross, Isaac Hollister, Jr., James Winchell, Josiah Hollister, Stephen Bush, Peter Winchell, William Connelly, William Brown, Lemuel Winchell and David Merriewh. The first house of worship was located in Olive City, the second one at Olive, and the present meeting house was erected at what is now Shokan in 1857. Elder William Connelly was the first pastor, serving from 1799 to 1811. Pastor for the past eight years has been Elder A. H. Bellows, who is highly esteemed by members of his local and Delaware county churches.

Dust the Wattle

Marlburg, Natal (AP)—If you were to drop into this South-East African province this October you'd see a bunch of people dusting the wattle. It will be an attempt to rescue the wattle—the wattle being not a new dance but a tree whose cultivation provides one of the principal industries of Natal. The dusting is to kill off the bag-worm which attacks the tree.

Valley Electrical Men Hold Meeting

More than 100 electrical men, distributors, contractors and dealers met last evening at a dinner held at the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation Recreation Center in Rifton. An annual convention, the purpose of the meeting was to discuss wiring and lighting for future domestic and commercial needs.

A. A. Warden of Newburgh, president of the Hudson Valley Electrical League, presided. Following the dinner, Mr. Warden presented H. E. Dexter, general commercial manager of the Central Hudson, who welcomed the electrical men. Mr. Warden then introduced M. N. Waterman of Poughkeepsie, who in turn presented A. L. Powell, supervising engineer of the Eastern division of the General Electric Company. Mr. Powell, speaking about how old wiring can be combined to make new things, demonstrated and explained a new light source which has recently been developed, the fluorescent tube lamp, many times more efficient than present incandescent lamps. He showed a number of ways in which the new lamp may be used in the home, office and mercantile establishments.

A. Lincoln Bush, chairman of the board of the New York State Association of Electrical Contractors and Dealers, speaking after Mr. Powell, had as his topic "Organization and Cooperation." He urged the members of the league to work together for their mutual betterment, stressing the importance of supporting the local electrical contractors and quoted illustrations of the effectiveness of such support.

gated the rights of way needed for the new 4-strip road between Kingston and West Hurley. Other takings were rights of way for the Shandaken-Lexington road, and the rights of way committee have also just obtained the needed rights of way for the proposed farms to market road between Saxton and Cairo, that lies within Ulster county.

The county has also spent considerable money during the past year for road improvements throughout the county.

It is for that reason that it is not expected that any further steps will be taken this year in the construction of the 4-strip road between Milton and Marlborough, as the supervisors believe it would add to the burdens already borne by the taxpayers of the county at the present time.

Before condemnation proceedings are taken to acquire the needed rights of way between Milton and Marlborough the rights of way committee may make another attempt to adjust prices, although official announcement has been made to that effect.

Hurricane Veers Away From Coast

Florida Told by Weather Bureau That Storm Moves to Northwest Course

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 20 (AP).

A dangerous hurricane menaced shipping in the Atlantic Ocean south of Cape Hatteras today but Meteorologist Grady Norton said the storm was showing a tendency to curve away from the coastline. In an early morning advisory, the weather bureau said the atmospheric pressure near the center of the storm was about 28 inches—two inches below normal and extremely low even for a tropical disturbance. The pressure indicated winds well above the hurricane minimum of 75 miles an hour.

The advisory placed the center at 1 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) about 350 miles east of Palm Beach and said the hurricane was moving northward. "Caution advised all ships in the Atlantic south of Cape Hatteras from the coast outward 300 to 400 miles," added the advisory. "The northward movement lessens the danger to Florida but vigilance should be continued for another 12 hours."

Storm warnings were continued from Jacksonville to Key West. Extensive precautions were taken in South Florida yesterday when the storm, first charted Saturday, appeared headed directly for the Miami area.

Police To Hold Revolver Shoot

The annual revolver practice of the men of the Kingston police department will commence Tuesday, September 27, at the Dwyer sandbank on Abel street. As usual the practice will be in charge of Police Commissioner Carlton S. Preston.

The policeman making the best score will receive a two days' vacation, and the man making the second best score will be granted a one-day holiday.

A two-day holiday also will be granted the man making the best handicap score, and a one-day holiday to the man scoring the second best.

This annual revolver practice is held for the purpose of improving the patrolmen in their marksmanship and handling of their weapons.

"ON SPOT" INTERNATIONALLY

With Britain and France apparently in accord on permitting Nazi Germany to annex much of his nation, President Eduard Benes (above) of Czechoslovakia had his expressive hands full. This picture, made not quite a fortnight ago, shows Benes as he was engaged in conference with Lord Runciman, British negotiator, whose efforts to solve the Czech Sudeten German crisis failed.

Red River Dialect Came With the Scots Pioneers

When the hardy Scots pioneers fought and conquered Sioux and Cree in the Red river country, now known as North and South Dakota, the intermingling of Scots and Cree blood, and the close trade intercourse, brought into being a patois known as Red river dialect. A mixture of the two tongues, it was understandable by both races, says a writer in London Tit-Bits magazine.

"Bye me I kakatch killed two ducks with wan shot," told the same story to Scott and Cree. Many of the words were descriptive, such as "chimmuck" for the sound that a large stone or rock makes when it falls into water. The Indian names for bird and beast were adopted, as well as a few French expressions, such as "cassette" for a trunk or box; while the Scots "bye" was always used by the Indians for stable.

The spread of civilization, with its ease of intercommunication, let into the Cree country a flood of white men who understood and talked white man's lingo only.

Similarly Pinyin English, that odd mixture of Chinese, Portuguese and English, which used largely to be the medium for business talk between the average Chinese and the European trader, has given place to more correct Chinese or English throughout the Eastern empire.

How Bananas Grow

The stem or spike bearing bananas projects from the top of the main stalk of the plant. When the fruit is small the individual bananas point outward and somewhat downward from the spike, but as they grow larger the spike bends over from its own weight and the bananas then point upward. Thus bunches of bananas seen hanging in stores are usually upside down in reference to their position on the plant when removed, but right side up in reference to their position on the plant at an earlier stage of their growth. When bananas are hung up in markets to ripen the string is attached to what was the free end of the spike on the plant, and not to the end which was cut, as one unacquainted with the growing plants would naturally suppose.

Seven Persons Die In Pacific Wreck

San Francisco, Sept. 20 (AP)—At least seven persons were killed and three were missing in a head-on collision between two Southern Pacific transcontinental passenger trains at Tortuga, in southeastern California, at 1:35 o'clock this morning.

Officials of the railroad in San Francisco said the Argonaut, westbound from New Orleans to Los Angeles, crashed into the Californian, eastbound from Los Angeles to Chicago, as it stood on a siding.

The dead included Robert Richardson, engineer of the Argonaut; his fireman, H. R. Parson; the fireman of the Californian, C. E. Norton; and four coach passengers. The latter included Mrs. J. A. Hall and Emma W. Hall of Loma Linda, Calif. One mail clerk was unaccounted for and between 30 and 40 passengers were hurt.

Two officials of the Southern Pacific, J. H. Dyer, vice president, and W. H. Kirkbride, chief engineer for the system, escaped injury. They were riding in a private car on the rear of the Argonaut and took charge of the situation.

Relief trains were sent from Niland and Yuma, Ariz., with doctors, nurses and medical supplies.

None of the cars of the Argonaut left the rails, although its engine was overturned. The Argonaut, with many of the injured aboard, is being taken to Yuma, Ariz.

Dynamite Went Off

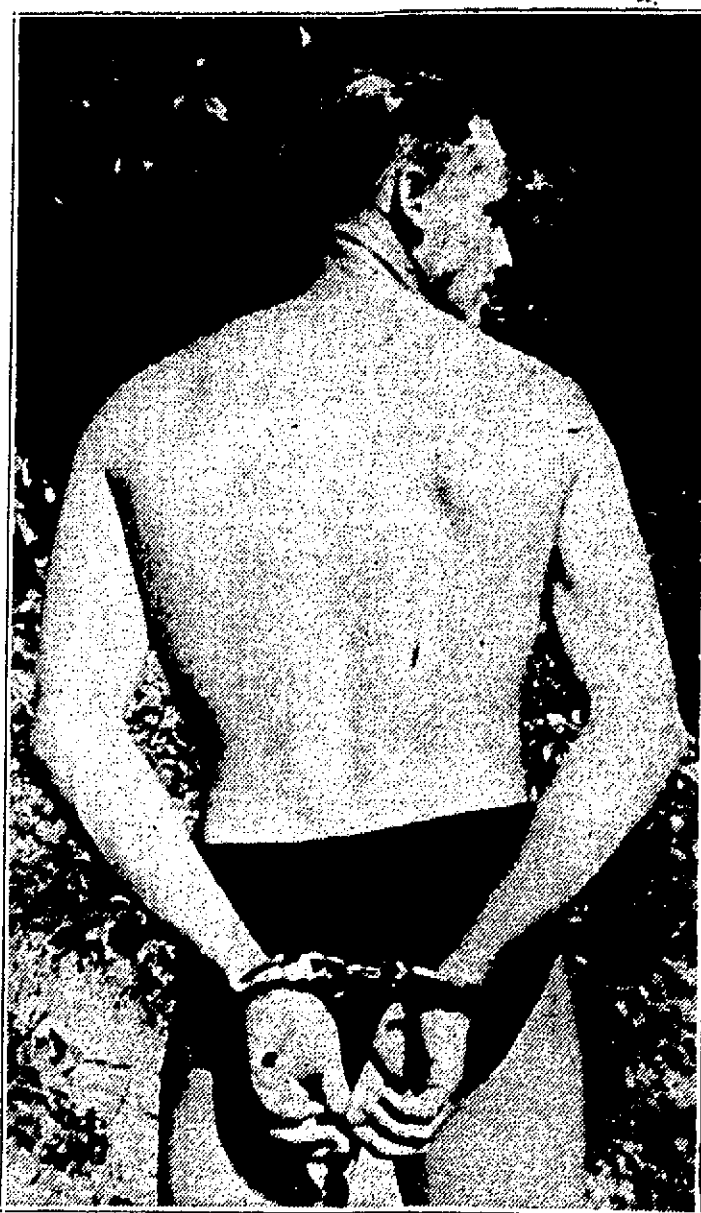

Melbourne, Australia (AP)—Explosive which thieves left in an office safe here after unsuccessful attempts to open it, went off later and killed a welder trying to cut his way into the safe. The thieves left a note of warning about the unexploded charge in the key-hole and safe experts were sent for. The charge apparently fell in to the door as the welder was at work. Other workmen were severely injured and the half-ton door to the safe was blown in two and tossed 15 feet.

It is rumored that the committee will introduce a surprise feature on Fall Opening night that is sure to prove of interest to all. The committee is not giving out much, so far as details are concerned, regarding this particular feature, but it is hinted that those who find the radio feature in which "Professor Quiz" is sponsored of interest will surely want to be present on Thursday night and see and hear for themselves just what the business men's committee have up their sleeve.

Rudy Vallee Does Special Favor for The Local Police

President William T. Rodell of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association today said he wanted to assure all those attending the ball, Wednesday night, October 12, that Rudy Vallee will be there in person to direct his own orchestra.

"Our contracts call for the personal appearance of Vallee," Rodell told a reporter, "and he'll be at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium ready to play at 8:30 p. m. on October 12th."

Vallee is doing a special favor for the Kingston police in coming here to play for their ball as one may understand by looking over the schedule of the famous radio and screen celebrity.

On October 10, Vallee will play in Pittsburgh; on the 11th, he'll be in Toledo, Ohio, and will fly to Kingston by plane to Kingston from the police ball on October 12. From Kingston, Rudy will go to New York for a broadcast on the 13th and from there will hop over to California by plane for a six weeks' engagement, starting the 15th.

Vallee is a flying enthusiast and likes to make most of his trips by plane. President Rodell said, "Discussing plans for the ball, the popular head of the P. B. A. called attention to the program which will net the police pension fund more than $3,000, which is a great help to the city."

This year's book, printed by The Freeman, will have a black cover with embossed letters of gold, and a silver shield, depicting the various patrolmen wearing as heads of the several communities for the ball.

Chief of Police J. Allen Wood is honorary chairman of the ball, and is highly pleased at the way his men are carrying out their plans to make the affair one of the most outstanding social success ever enjoyed by a Kingston gathering.

Many Minorities Besides Sudetens Plague Czechs' Political Course

The Sudeten Germans aren't the only minority that can plague little Czechoslovakia. That hard-pressed republic is a land of minorities. Of a total population of 15,000,000, only slightly more than half are Czechs or Slovaks. The distribution of the three most localized minorities is shown on the map. There are 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans; 700,000 Hungarians, and some 82,000 Poles. President Eduard Beneš also has to keep these groups in mind: 550,000 Russians, 187,000 Jews, and a heterogeneous group of 60,000 thousand.

Important to Know Correct Thing to Do

Why Guess at Etiquette?
Bill's annoyed? Nan's fixing his tie in public and her "I-own-you" attitude embarrasses him no end. He doesn't like her clinging-vine manner, either—the way she hangs on his arm when they're walking or when he's buying the theatre tickets. The girl who knows her etiquette doesn't keep her escort waiting 15 minutes to half an hour while she dushes doing up. She's gay and friendly in a quiet, well-bred way. She doesn't shout, "I thought I'd scream," or laugh hysterically. She doesn't help a man put on his topcoat, and she doesn't move a chair if he's there to do it for her.

Know your way around in the best company! Know how to end a telephone conversation gracefully, how to accept compliments. Our 32-page booklet tells you the correct thing to do at formal and informal parties, dances, movies, travel. How to be a perfect guest. What to do in awkward situations? Send 10c in coin for your copy of ETIQUETTE FOR ALL OCCASIONS to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 636 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and the NAME of book-let.

NATION NEARS DICTATORSHIP, in expressed opinion of Dr. Alfred H. Haake (above), Chicago, managing director of National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, who told delegates attending the "small business men" convention in Pittsburgh that the "nation is on the brink of dictatorship." Dr. Haake used gestures to emphasize his points.

'HE WHO LAUGHS LAST, laughs best,' says an old saying and the Sen. Millard Tydings reproduced in caricature (above) by Jack Lambert of Baltimore seems in rare good spirit. Despite presidential support for his opponent, David J. Lewis, Senator Tydings easily won Democratic renomination in Maryland. If elected, Tydings will start his third senate term.

One Cent a Word

Name Isabella Believed

Originally From Jerusalem

The name Isabella, the Isabella, has long been considered a name of Elizabeth, meaning "consecrated to God," but it probably came originally from Jezebel, meaning "consecrated to Baal," Baal being the "false god" of the Hebrews. One authority, writes Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, says Isabella probably meant "chaste, or pure." Many are the royal women who have borne the name of Isabella.

Isabella of Bavaria (d. 1486), wife of Charles VI of France, did not lead a life above reproach, nor did Isabella, wife of Edward II of England.

Isabella I (d. 1504), joint ruler with Ferdinand of Spain, is the most famous bearer of the name in history, for it was she who, legend says, sold her jewels to raise money to finance Columbus' voyage to the New World.

Isabella d'Este, Marchioness of Mantua, Fifteenth century, was so charming that she was called "the first lady of the world." Isabella, daughter of the Earl of Mar, was the first wife of Robert Bruce.

There is a light-brown color called Isabella after Isabella of Austria, daughter of Philip II, who vowed not to change her linen until Ostend was captured. But the siege lasted from 1601 to 1604, so—well, enough said.

Constitution Developed

With the Greatest Care

In none of the relatively meager records of the Constitutional convention is the literary authorship of any part of the Constitution definitely established, asserts a writer in the Detroit News. The deputies proposed plans until a committee of detail was appointed on July 7, 1787, consisting of John Rutledge of South Carolina, Edmund Randolph of Virginia, Nathaniel Gorham of Massachusetts, Oliver Ellsworth of Connecticut, and James Wilson of Pennsylvania, who on August 6 reported a draft. Debate continued until September 8, when a new committee of style was named to revise the draft. This committee included William S. Johnson of Connecticut, Alexander Hamilton of New York, Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania, James Madison of Virginia and Rufus King of Massachusetts, and they reported the draft in approximately its final form on September 12.

The actual literary form is believed to be largely that of Morris, as indicated by the letters and papers of Madison and Morris' claim. However, in reality, it was developed slowly and carefully, with not a piece of material included until it had been shaped and approved. The preamble was written by the committee on style.

Shoe-Throwing at Newly

Married Ancient Custom

The custom of throwing shoes at newly married couples is very old and may be a relic of the ancient practice of giving a shoe to another to symbolize the transfer of possession. Sometimes new ownership was symbolized by throwing the shoe on the property in question. "Over Edom will I cast out my shoe," says Psalm 136:9, meaning that the country was to be subdued. In Ruth 4:7, we read:

"Now this was the manner in former time in Israel concerning redeeming and concerning changing, for to confirm all things; a man tucked off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbor: and this was a testimony in Israel." Accordingly, when Ruth's kinsman relinquished his rights to Ruth and her inheritance, he "drew off his shoe" in the presence of witnesses.

Among the Anglo-Saxons it was customary for the father to give one of his daughter's shoes to the bridegroom, who touched her on the head with it, the ceremony signifying the passage of authority and dominion over the daughter from parent to husband. Later, it is supposed, the custom degenerated and the shoe was thrown after the couple as they departed for their new house.

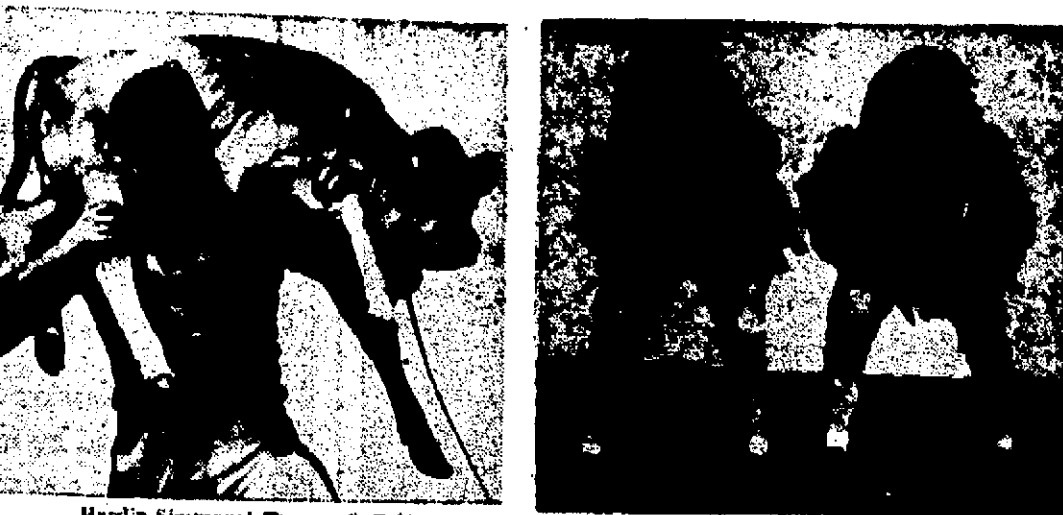

Some writers, however, believe that throwing shoes at newly married pairs represents missile-throwing and is a savage survival of the days when the bride was often carried away by force from her people who attempted to drive off her abductor. This theory seems to be partially confirmed by the practice in Turkey and other parts of the Near East, where the bridegroom is chased by the guests and pelted with slippers.

"We Must Hang Together" is one of the famous puns in history and is attributed to Benjamin Franklin. When the Declaration of Independence was signed, John Hancock, president of the continental congress, put his name to the document first. "Now we must all hang together," he remarked as he wrote his name. "Yes, indeed," retorted Doctor Franklin, "we must all hang together or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

Two Good Prospects for Pro Boxing Ranks Will Fight on Friday Night

Nationals Are Rained Out, Browns Lick Yankees 13-1

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The entire National League program of four doubleheaders was rained right off the 1938 program and that, in its way, was somewhat more important than any of the three games played in the American League.

While the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates were deprived of a chance to improve their record at the expense of the Phillies, they marked up two games that can't be lost and two pieces that their rivals, the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds, can't win. They now have 14 to go and Chicago and Cincinnati 13 apiece.

Thus the standing of the pennant contenders looks like this:

Games behind To play

Pittsburgh . . . Leading 14

Chicago . . . 3 1/2 13

Cincinnati . . . 5 13

New York . . . 6 1/2 13

If any of these three rivals should succeed in winning all its 13 games—and nothing appears more unlikely—the Pirates would need only eight victories to dispose of the Giants, ten to eliminate the Reds and 11 to remain ahead of the Cubs.

On the ball field, yesterday's outstanding developments was one of the most thorough lickings the Champion Yankees have taken all season.

After clinching the pennant Sunday, with the aid of the weather, the Yanks dropped a 13-1 decision to the St. Louis Browns.

Cleveland's Indians, still trying for second place, picked up a half game on the idle Boston Red Sox when they made four hits good for a 4-3 victory over the Athletics.

Washington wallowed Detroit 12-2 and Hank Greenberg's chances of beating Babe Ruth's home run record were further weakened when he was held to a single.

Other bouts listed for Friday are:

Dom Peretti, Diamond Belt bantamweight champion, Albert vs. Raymond Robinson, New York city star.

Charlie Raigins, Saugerties Bomber, vs. Hank Bunce, Kingston lightweight favorite, in a return match. Raigins won the first.

Frankie Albright, Kingston featherweight slugger, vs. Tommy Apopros, Poughkeepsie Greek.

Sam Yerkes, Ellenville windmill vs. Johnny Leffer, Albany.

Two amateur boxers destined for bright futures when they turn professional, according to Jimmy Winn, editor of Boxing News, will box at the municipal auditorium Friday night, in two of the top five round bouts.

Vince Sempervino, former Hawaiian champ, and already a favorite with local stickup audiences, is one of the pugilists, and the other is Moogy Marchese, another Schenectady boy who developed his punching acumen in Uncle Sam's khaki colored ranks.

Sempervino, the ex-army titleholder, is matched with Tony Bombace, welterweight pride of the Catholic Boys' Club of Yonkers. Bombace has been angling for a place on Kingston cards, but up until now could not agree on a date because of other activities.

In Bombace, Sempervino will face another scrapper like Mike Angieri, the New Yorker who put him to a real test last week. Some of the fans thought Sempervino was handed the decision on a silver platter, and booed. Bombace has a better rating than Angieri, and is expected to give Vince a tougher battle.

Angieri will be back Friday. He is matched with Carmine Fatta for whom he must lose at least four pounds to get down to the weight of the Newburgh slugger who has won five fights in a row at the auditorium, outpointing even the national lightweight champ, Steve Kukol of Binghamton.

Marchese, the heavyweight prospect from up-state, will face Erwin Carroll of New York. "I think Carroll can beat him," said George Gainford, Golden Gloves trainer, in asking that one of his stable be given a crack at Marchese to make up for the decision dropped last week by Bobby Smith.

Throws a Mean Brick
GAGNEY, S. C. (A)—The hawk and weasels had better let Mrs. Hettie White's hens alone. Her "pitching arm" is too much for them. A hawk measuring three feet from tip to tip attempted to make off with a prized fowl from her yard. She surprised the raider in the act, picked up a brick and brought him down. A full-grown weasel had tried the same trick a little earlier. Mrs. White used a rock to slay this marauder.

BEAVERS WORK FOR UNCLE SAM BUILDING DAMS

$200 Worth of Labor Done By 'Paddle-Tails' at Cost Of $8, Tests Reveal.

WASHINGTON.—Beavers soon will be building dams for the federal government in Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming. The paddle-tailed animals have been "employed" on dam construction work for two years in Idaho. Each of 200 beavers, according to Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, performed $200 worth of labor that cost the government only $8.

The beavers were trapped in areas that could be harmed by their instinctive dam building and freed in streams that were to be dammed.

These beavers are being "drafted" to work in Uncle Sam's conservation program.

They immediately began spanning the streams with dams of wood and mud.

These dams, Ickes reported, prevented excessive silt and erosion. The work was so effective—and inexpensive—the government will extend its activities.

Large-scale operations, Ickes said, will reduce from $8 to $5 the cost of catching and transporting each beaver.

Original plans for "employing" the beavers were devised several years ago, according to a report submitted by the division of grazing at Boise, Idaho.

"In the early days of the Northwest," the report said, "beavers were plentiful and their pelts formed one of the greatest sources of revenue for the Indians and early day settlers."

Beaver Colonies Transferred.

"After the animals were trapped out, the streams had nothing to check the silt in the spring runoff. Consequently, gullies were washed through the surrounding meadows and drained the water reserve table lower. As a result of this, and also overgrazing on the surrounding hills, the once-productive meadows became dry, barren and more or less waste land."

"A few years ago the idea was conceived to attempt to transplant a few colonies of beavers in one of our most eroded streams. We carried them in for miles by hand to get them started. In a few years they have performed almost a miracle."

Dead Woman's Eyes Give Sight to Man and Youth

SAN FRANCISCO.—Two men are looking out now upon a world they hadn't seen in years, a world they hadn't known since they lost their sight. They owe their regained vision to one of the miracles of modern surgery, in which cornea tissue from dead persons is transplanted to living people.

The eyes of Mrs. Margaret Carr, who died at 80 years, restored sight to Reverend U. E. Harding of Portland, Ore., and Arthur Morton, 21, a pianist of Sacramento, Calif.

"I can see," Reverend Harding said when the bandages were removed. "I can see your hand. I see colors. I know what you look like." He was still blind in one eye, but from the other he could see for the first time in 45 years.

When surgeons took the dressing from Morton's eyes he stared for a moment at the face above him, then said, "Things are blurred. But I can see." Then he faintly. Morton lost his sight in 1932.

The pair will resume their private lives, Harding returning to his pastorate in a Portland church, Morton resuming his study of piano.

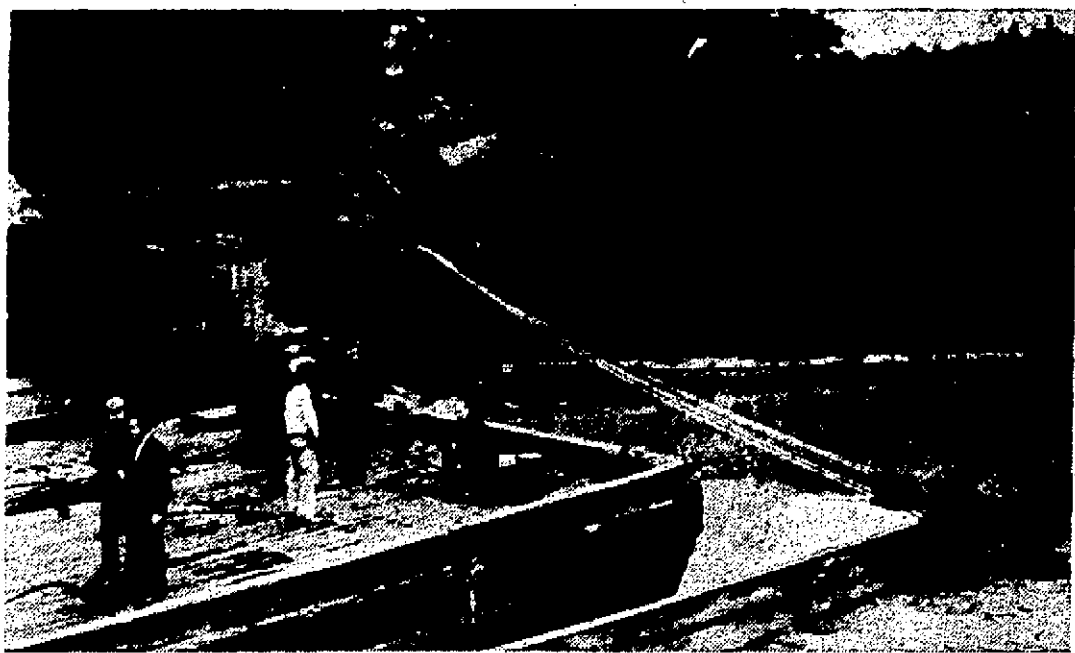

Eskimo Baby Exchanged For Tent, Says Witness
EDMONTON.—A Winnipeg attorney returning from a trip through the wilds of northwestern Canada, told of seeing an Eskimo baby traded for a tent worth $48.

Attorney John A. Macauley said he witnessed the transaction at Great Bear Lake.

"The baby was purchased by an Indian family, most of whose children had died," he said. "The little Eskimo seemed to be thriving on a diet of powdered milk, and its parents-by-purchase seemed extremely fond of it."

Matches Postponed Again
Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 20. (A)—For the fourth straight day, rain forced postponement of the three remaining semi-final matches in the national singles tennis championships at the West Side Tennis Club today. Weather permitting, the matches will be played tomorrow and the final Thursday.

Salvaging Barges

Shown above is part of the rigging to remove one of the Bartley boats off the flats at New Salem where they were pushed high and dry two years ago by the ice jam in the Rondout creek. James O'Boyle of New York, recently purchased six of these boats from John Bartley. The salvage work is being done by Forsyth Brothers of Staten Island, under the personal direction of John Forsyth. Several large salvage corporations refused contracts for the difficult task of floating the boats. As they are taken off the flats they are towed to the Hillebrand shipyard for repairs.

No Civil Cases at Court's Session

No civil cases were ready for trial Monday afternoon when County Judge Frederick G. Traver convened the court and a recess was taken until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when apparently one case will be ready for trial. Jurors were excused until that time.

Judge Traver stated that two days could be devoted to civil work then, since a Surrogate's matter was scheduled for later in the week. The Florence Y. Goudy matter will be taken up before Surrogate George E. Kaufman and a jury.

A goods sold and delivered action brought by Abe Masora against Jennie Goodman was announced as being ready this week, but since counsel in the case was not present Judge Traver deemed it unwise to bring back the jury for one case which probably could not go on after returning the jury. It was set down for next week.

No. 31, Clarence Freer against Frank Principle was adjourned when Frank Campechiaro was substituted for defense instead of Planagan & Kaercher. No. 24, D. Roy Van Etten against William Dusing, a contract action, was moved off the calendar because of the death of defendant. Other cases which were on the day calendar went over the term by consent or were moved for later in the term. It is expected that civil work may be taken up in November at which time criminal matters will also be disposed of.

Purina Outing Held
Saturday about 60 Purina dealers, their wives and employees gathered at Dreamland Farm, Kyserke, to celebrate their first annual outing. Joining the 70 guests registered at this popular summer resort, the dealers enjoyed a game of soft ball on the Dreamland diamond until stopped by rain. The group then retired to the Dug Out, a playroom, especially equipped with ping-pong and billiard table and card tables. Others read in the library, warmed by an old-fashioned fireplace. All enjoyed the dinner supervised by Mrs. F. W. Kristeller. Frank E. Sherwood of Kingston was in charge of arrangements. Among the dealers present were: J. Sanford Cross, Kyserke; C. H. Hummer Jr., Kingston; Edward H. Demerest, Rosendale; A. P. Le Fevre & Son, New Paltz; and Warren V. Dey, Walkkill. The families and associates of these dealers were also present. Albert Walker, pianist of the Dreamland orchestra, accompanied the singers, pictures were taken by Lipgar Studio and presentations were made.

Accepted Invitation
Urbana, O. (A)—While fishing up in Canada recently Vincent Loverde, local merchant, invited several of his northern acquaintances to "drop in" and see him sometime. Two Toronto men took him literally. They flew from Toronto to Urbana, landed their plane in a field near Loverde's store, took him for a ride and then returned home.
